goes thus, before gaining admission into the university I had tried the year earlier and didn't get admission, my parents didn't take it well, then I got admitted but it wasn't the course I had wanted so all these situations led to some sort of mix of anger and depression which inspired the piece.

The old lady and her wrinkled skin signify the pressure within and her eyes seemed to me to wait for the future with hope. The irregularities in the background signify the noise from the world with its own group opinions and the myriad of things not helpful to oneself. ABOUT TITLE

Title: The face we make

There are many situations in life that cause us all to pull certain 'faces' and expressions. This is something we do naturally without even giving it a second thought, however, when shown in an image these reactions can be po-faced and humorless. For example, the scorn looks you put on when you see someone who forcefully took a position or something that rightfully belongs to you due to he is wealthier, influential, and powerful in the society than you are.

ALEX NWOKOLO

Alex Nwokolo was born in Lagos in 1963. He seemed to have set his mind on art from an early age. By his teens, he was a regular at the National Theatre Lagos, painting club. He enrolled at the Federal Polytechnic, Auchi in 1986. The art school was relatively new, run by young artists and academics. This meant an easier connection between teachers and students. It also meant the school was free of many of the traditions that would guide and, maybe, constrain students in the older Nigerian art schools. Nwokolo excelled in this environment, and gained a reputation for his bold colours and imagery. He received the Rector's Certificate of Excellence and the American Ambassador's Award in 1991 while in Auchi.

ABOUT TITLE

DARE ME

There is a strength of will dominant in youngsters that the adults need to emulate. Every child struggles from crawling to standing and to walking, every child struggles to speak and articulate words clearly. It involves a lot of patience, self-will, and courage. Every time a child falls when he/she tries to stand, there is no giving up, he/she tries again and again and again. It's like a battleground for them, fighting their fears and inabilities till they can now do what they couldn't do before.

This is how life should be seen and lived. We must keep facing our fears and overcoming the thoughts that make us feel that we cannot be what we have dreamt of being

This surreal presentation of an aspect of the cosmopolitan experience summarizes the Yoruba love of extravagant parties (called owambe in local parlance) to celebrate every aspect of human life. TERMS AND CONDITIONS

BUYING AT SOGAL ART AUCTION

Conditions of Sale

The "Conditions of Sale" and "Limited Warranty" are published in the catalogue and on the company's website \(Http://auction.sogalart.com\). Sogal Art Auction encourages bidders to be familiar with these documents as they set out the terms on which property is bought at the auction.

Bidder Registration

We require prospective buyers to register at least 72 hours before the auction. All first-time registrants will be required to supply a bank reference to complete this process. Sogal Art Auction will be available to answer any individual questions about this process or if assistance is required. Registered bidders who arrive at the auction will be given a numbered paddle for bidding.

Bidding

The auctioneer accepts bids from those present in the saleroom or absentee written bids Left with Sogal Art Auction in advance of the auction. The auctioneer may also execute bids on behalf of the seller up to the amount of the reserve, either by placing consecutive bids or by entering bids in response to those made in the saleroom and/or absentee bids. After the reserve is met, the auctioneer will not execute any further bids.

Absentee Bids

A registered prospective buyer that is unable to attend the auction can complete a written instruction in the form of an absentee bid. This would be a maximum amount the bidder is willing to declare as the hammer price. Sogal Art Auction will attempt to execute an absentee bid at the lowest possible price taking into account the reserve price. If identical bids are made for the same lot, the first bid received by Sogal will take priority. The auctioneer may execute absentee bids himself with a verbal declaration that he is doing so. Absentee Bid forms are available in this catalogue and on Sogal Art Auction's website for submission by email or hand delivery. As indicated in the Conditions of Sale, Sogal Art Auction will confirm receipt of absentee bids up to 24 hours after submission by the prospective buyer. If the prospective buyer has not received a confirmation, he or she is responsible for follow-up with Sogal Art Auction.

Successful Bids

The sound of the auctioneer's hammer signifies that the final bid has been made and accepted. At that time, the buyer assumes full responsibility for payment of this lot. The results of absentee bids, if successful, will be conveyed to the absentee bidder at their preferred form of contact, indicated on the absentee bid form. The successful bidder will pay the hammer price plus the premium and any applicable value added tax.

Estimates

Estimates are based upon market prices for similar works by the same artists, and, where applicable, upon prices recently paid at auction for comparable works. Estimates are subject to revision.

Reserves

The reserve price is a minimum hammer price for which the work will be sold. If the reserve is not met, the lot will remain unsold. The reserve does not exceed the low pre-sale estimate but the sum remains confidential.

Buyer's Premium

Sogal Art Auction charges a flat-rate premium to the buyer of 10% on the hammer price of the lot.

Tax

A value added tax of 5% will be charged to the buyer for the total price paid (hammer price plus buyer's premium).

PAYMENT INSTRUCTIONS

Payment must be made within seven calendar days of sale. This applies even if the buyer wishes to export the lot and the export license is (or may be) required. The buyer, while assuming responsibility for the completion of payment, will not acquire title and possession of the lot until all amounts due to Sogal Art Auction have been paid. Payment is accepted in the form of cash, cheque or telegraphic transfer in Nigerian Naira unless otherwise indicated. Cheques will need clearing before a purchase is released. Please note that transfer of lots is not recognized. The successful bidder at auction will be solely responsible for payment of the purchase to Sogal Art Auction.

Although we allow bidding at the auction by proxy, this arrangement has to be declared by the prospective buyer in writing before the auction, if not on the Bidder Registration Form". Applicable payment details are available to the buyer on request.

Shipping

The buyer is responsible to pick up purchases or make all shipping arrangements. Sogal Art Auction can arrange delivery for a purchased lot including property packing, transit insurance and shipping at an additional cost if the buyer so requests.

Export/Import Permits

Property sold at auction will be subject to Nigerian law regarding the export of certain items as well as the import restrictions of foreign countries. It is the buyer's sole responsibility to obtain any relevant export or import license. The denial of any license or any delay in obtaining licenses shall neither justify the rescission of any sale nor any delay in making full payment for the lot. Buyers can consult Sogal Art Auction for regulatory understanding as well as for assistance in securing an export license from Nigeria. Sogal Art Auction will submit any applications for such a license on behalf of the buyer if so requested. However, Sogal Art Auction cannot ensure that a license will be obtained.

Collection

Full collection details will be enclosed with the invoice. All lots will be available for collection in a predetermined and insured location in Lagos for 7 days after the auction date.

Storage

Sogal Art Auction can offer the purchaser assistance in storage and shipping if so required. If purchases are not collected within seven days after the auction, storage will be arranged at the buyer's expense.

Insurance

Sogal Art Auction provides insurance cover for sold items for a maximum of 7 days after the date of the auction. After this period, the lot will be held in a storage facility entirely at the buyer's risk.

2. Buyers are responsible for satisfying themselves concerning the condition of the property and the matters referred to in the catalogue entry. 3. Neither Sogal Art Auction nor the seller provides any guarantee in relation to the property, which is sold in "as is" condition to the buyer, except as stated in the Limited Warranty in paragraph 19 below. This pertains to, but is not limited to, the condition of the work, the authorship and authenticity of the work and any descriptive or historical detail about the work that is disclosed verbally or printed in the catalogue or elsewhere.

In good faith to the buyer, signed declarations by the seller warrant the following: (a) the seller is the owner of the item, or is properly authorized by the owner to sell the item.

(b) The seller can and shall, in accordance with the conditions set upon him by, transfer possession to the buyer with good and marketable title to the item, free from any third party Rights, claims or potential claims (including without limitation, by governments or governmental agencies).

Such statements do not constitute a representation, warranty or assumption of liability by us of any kind.

BEFORE THE SALE

4.(a) A prospective buyer must complete and sign a bidder registration form and provide identification before he has the Right to bid. Sogal Art Auction may require the production of bank or other financial references.

(b) A prospective, registered buyer can authorize a third party to act as agent in the bidding process if the buyer is unable to attend the auction. This arrangement, if such is to occur, must be conveyed in writing to Sogal Art Auction and approved by the same.

(c) Sogal Art Auction has the Right, at its complete discretion, to refuse admission to the premises or participation in any auction and to reject any bid.

AT THE SALE

5. When making a bid, a bidder is accepting personal liability to pay the purchase price, including the buyer's premium and all applicable taxes, plus all other applicable charges. This does not apply if the bidder is acting as agent on behalf of an identified third party acceptable to Sogal Art Auction and this has been explicitly agreed in writing with Sogal Art Auction before the commencement of the sale. In respect of this situation Sogal Art Auction will only consider the principal liable for payment. Conditions in paragraph 4 apply to both the agent bidder and the principal for the bid to be valid.

6. Absentee bids are welcome and Sogal Art Auction will carry out written bids for the convenience of clients who are not present at the auction in person, through the auctioneer or by way of representation through an agent. We reserve the Right to not accept an absentee bid if it does not comply with any of the following conditions:

(a) the bidder is registered or submits the bid with a completed bidder registration form;

(b) the bid is made in the local currency

(c) the bid is received a minimum of 72 hours prior to the auction.

Please refer to the absentee bid form on our website for clarifications.

Bidders will receive a receipt of acknowledgement from Sogal Art Auction, up to 24 hours after it is submitted and will further receive a confirmation that the bid is accepted with a date stamp, the purpose of which is to fairly execute the following circumstance:

If we receive written bids on a particular lot for identical amounts, and at the auction these are the highest bids on the lot, it will be sold to the person whose written bid was received and accepted first.

7. Reserve sale prices, indicated by the owner, are included for all lots unless otherwise indicated (by the symbol next to the lot number). The reserve is the confidential minimum price for the lot. If bidding for a particular lot ends below the reserve, the lot will not be sold. The reserve will not exceed the low estimate printed in the catalogue. The auctioneer may open the bidding on any lot below the reserve and may continue to bid on behalf of the seller up to, and strictly limited to, the amount of the reserve, either by placing consecutive bids or by placing bids in response to other bidders.

8. Subject to the auctioneer's discretion, the highest bidder accepted by the auctioneer will be the buyer. The auctioneer will indicate that the highest bid has been accepted with a strike of his hammer (hereafter referred to as the 'hammer price'). This same strike of the hammer symbolically and legally establishes the contract for sale between the seller and buyer. Risk and responsibility for the lot (including frames or glass where relevant) passes to the buyer at the expiration of seven calendar days from the date of the sale or on collection by the buyer if earlier.

AFTER THE SALE

9. In addition to the hammer price, the buyer agrees to pay Sogal Art Auction the buyer's premium (this becomes the 'purchase price'), together with any applicable value added tax (VAT), sales or compensating use tax or equivalent tax in the place of sale. The buyer's premium is 10% of the hammer price. The VAT, subject to Nigerian law is 5% of the total purchase price.

10. Payment must be made to Sogal Art Auction within a period of seven (7) days after the sale. This includes the time required to process cheques or to receive wire transfers. Failure to meet this schedule may incur the buyer additional charges or actions, made at the discretion of Sogal Art Auction. Possible charges or actions against late- or non- payment are elaborated upon in paragraph 16 below.

11. Immediately following the sale, the buyer must confirm his or her name and permanent address and, if applicable, the details of the bank from which payment will be made. The buyer must pay the full amount due (comprising the hammer price, buyer's premium and any applicable taxes) immediately after the sale. This applies even if the buyer wishes to export the lot and an export license is, or may be, required for the lot. The buyer will not acquire title to the lot until all amounts due to Sogal Art Auction from the buyer have been received in good cleared funds even in circumstances where the lot has been released to the buyer.

12. Sogal shall be entitled to retain items sold until all amounts due have been received in full in good cleared funds or until the buyer has satisfied such other terms as we, in our sole discretion, shall require. Subject to this, the buyer shall have paid for and collected purchased lots within ten (10) calendar days from the date of sale, unless otherwise agreed upon.

13. Although Sogal Art Auction shall use reasonable efforts to take care when handling, packing and shipping a purchased lot, we are not responsible for the acts or omissions of third parties whom we might retain for these purposes. Similarly, where we may suggest other handlers, packers or carriers if so requested, we do not accept responsibility or liability for their acts or omissions.

14. Unless otherwise agreed by Sogal Art Auction in writing, the fact the buyer wishes to apply for an export license does not affect his or her obligation to make payment within seven days nor our Right to charge interest or storage charges on late payment. If the buyer requests us to apply for an export license on his or her behalf, we shall be entitled to make a charge for this service. We shall not be obliged to rescind a sale nor to refund any interest or other expenses incurred by the buyer in circumstances where an export license is required.

15. If the buyer fails to make payment in full in good cleared funds within the time required by paragraph 11 above, we shall be entitled in our absolute discretion to exercise one or more of the following

Rights or remedies

(In addition to asserting any other Rights or remedies available to us by law):

(a) to charge interest at such rate we shall reasonably decide;

(b) to hold the defaulting buyer liable for the total amount due and to commence legal proceeding for its recovery together with interest, legal fees and cost to the fullest extent permitted under applicable law;

(c) to cancel the sale

(d) to resell the property publicly or privately on such terms as we shall think fit

(e) to reject at any future auction any bids made by or on behalf of the buyer or to obtain a deposit from the buyer before accepting any bids;

(f) to take such other action as we deem necessary or appropriate.

If Sogal Art Auction resells the property under paragraph (d) above the defaulting buyer shall be liable for payment of any deficiency between the total amount originally due to us and the price obtained upon resale as well as for all costs, expenses, damages, legal fees and commissions and premiums of whatever kind associated with both sales or otherwise arising from the default. If Sogal Art Auction pays any amount to the seller under paragraph (e) above, the buyer acknowledges that Sogal Art Auction shall have all of the Rights of the seller, however arising, to pursue the buyer for such amount.

16. Where purchases are not collected within seven calendar days from the date of sale, whether or not payment has been made, Sogal Art Auction shall be permitted to remove the property to a managed third party warehouse at the buyer's expense.

Sogal Art Auction is only liable to release the items after payment in full has been made of all the additional costs incurred, whether for removal, storage, handling, insurance and/or any other activity that warrants charges.
